Peter Pennoyer Architects Hardware Collection City Suite, Lowe Hardware

Created by Peter Pennoyer Architects partner James M. Taylor, AIA, for Maine-based Lowe Hardware, the City Suite line is part of a new collection that marks the firm's first foray into architectural hardware. As it is designed by a practice that embraces classicism and traditional architecture, the collection—which includes two additional lines: the Country Suite and the Cubist Suite—draws inspiration from the firm's portfolio of residential projects. The City Suite was influenced by the elegance of 1920s architecture, and comprises 13 separate pieces including wall and floor doorstops, a ring pull, a knob, and a lever. City Suite is offered in five
